APRIL 7, 2024 SUNDAY OF DIVINE MERCY

I wish you a “Happy Easter!” as we come to the end of the Octave of Easter, in which we celebrate the Resurrection of the Lord.

In the Gospel today, Jesus showed his wounds to Thomas. Now Thomas is an apostle and saint that many of us can relate to. Thomas said, “Unless I see the mark of the nails in his hands and put my finger into the nail marks and put my hand into his side, I will not believe.” We can all relate to that. At times, all of us have had our doubts. Perhaps, more than a few people this weekend come with hurts and doubts. What was Jesus’ remedy for Thomas? Jesus gave Thomas his wounds, his glorified wounds. And then Thomas, in awe, proclaimed, “My Lord and my God”. A takeaway from our Gospel reading is that the Risen Lord can transform our wounds into glorified wounds, holy wounds, which can become a source of strength and healing to others. We all know people like that. Who are these people in your life? We all want to be like them. They demonstrate to us that through a relationship with Jesus, we can gain strength from the illnesses that inflict us, or accidents that befall us, or even injustices committed against us, as much as we can learn from our own mistakes. Our transformed wounds can then become a source of strength and motivation, giving hope and healing to others. We can give hope and healing to others when we let Jesus transform our wounds into his glorified wounds.

And so, it is appropriate that today is also Divine Mercy Sunday. St. Faustina had a vision of the Risen Lord which we have on display. In St. Faustina’s diary about the origin of this feast day, Jesus told her “...tell the whole world about My inconceivable mercy. I desire that the Feast of Mercy be a refuge and shelter for all souls, and especially poor sinners... Let no soul fear to draw near to Me, even though its sins be as scarlet.... Mankind will not have peace until it turns to the Fount of My Mercy.” (Diary 699) Under the image is St. Faustina’s prayer that I believe we should all pray when we have doubts or hurts. Jesus, I trust in you. Jesus, I trust in you. I don’t know where my life is going. Jesus, I trust in you. I may be handicapped by illness, but Jesus I trust in you. I may be racked with sinfulness, but Jesus I trust in you. I may be wounded by the sins of others, Jesus I trust in you. My life may seem like it is crumbling all around me, but Jesus I trust in you. At the end of the day, we need to simply trust that Jesus knows what he is doing and won’t let us be lost forever, if we just simply trust. My friends, what are your wounds? Think about it for a moment, what are your wounds? Now can you trust your wounds to Jesus? Ask yourself that, can you trust your wounds to Jesus? The celebration of Divine Mercy Sunday is an opportunity to reflect on the theme of how God’s mercy can overcome sin and, as the Congregation for Divine Worship and the Discipline of the Sacraments states, “a perennial invitation to the Christian world to face, with confidence in divine benevolence, the difficulties and trials that mankind [sic] will experience in the years to come.”

Jesus, I Trust In You!

May God bless you always!

Fr. Felicjan

Prayer for the 2nd Sunday of Easter

Dear Jesus,
As you greeted your disciples after you rose, fill us, too, with your peace.
As you breathed your spirit on them, breathe on us, too.
As your presence was known to Thomas, make it known to us, too.
Help us to live in your peace, power, and presence.
Amen.

Live The Liturgy
Inspiration of the Week

We find unfathomable mercy and everlasting love in the wounds of Christ — even when we are skeptical, even when we carry doubt. God meets us there in the confusion. He reaches for our hand and places them at his side. We just have to call his name.

Family In the Easter Gospel we hear about how the disciples found the tomb empty three days after Jesus' death. We are also told that they do not yet understand the Scriptures or that Jesus had been raised from the dead. That understanding gradually unfolded for the disciples as they began to experience the risen Lord. Similarly, our understanding of Jesus' Resurrection unfolds for us throughout our lives. In the weeks ahead, we will hear how the first disciples moved from confusion, doubt, and skepticism to faith. Their experience can teach us how we too might receive this gift of faith from God.

Gather your family members and ask them to share what they know about the events that happened in the days after Jesus' crucifixion. Invite your family to imagine that they are among Jesus' first disciples. Read together today's Gospel, John 20:1-9. Reflect together on the Gospel with questions such as these: If you had been among the first disciples who heard that the stone had been removed from Jesus' tomb and that Jesus' body was no longer there, what would you think? What did Mary of Magdala, Simon Peter, and the disciple whom Jesus loved think had happened? Recall that this experience is the first indication Jesus' disciples have that he is risen. Throughout the Easter season, we will learn more about how the disciples came to believe that Jesus had been raised from the dead. Pray together using today's psalm, Psalm 118:

"This is the day the Lord has made;
let us rejoice and be glad."
